E] Other Information:

Suriname is located on the Northeast coast of South America, between 2°-6° Northern latitude and 54°-58° Western longitude, borders in the East with French Guiana, in the South with Brazil, in the West with Guyana and in the North with the Atlantic Ocean. The total land area of Suriname is about 164,000 km². In the year 2011 the population consisted of 539,910 inhabitants. Population growth is approximately 1% per year.

The South American subcontinent has a history of devastating earthquakes. The major reason for the high frequency and intensity of the earthquakes is that the plate is driving at a rate of approximately 10-40 mm/year. Geographical statistics of South America show that almost 20% of the land is vulnerable to earthquakes. Earthquake-prone areas of the continent have been identified on the basis of scientific inputs relating to seismicity, earthquakes occurred in the past and tectonic setup of the region. Based on these inputs, the Continent, is broadly divided into four seismic zones, viz. Low, Moderate, High and Very High Zone. Of these Zones, Suriname along with project sites falls under the Low Seismic Zone which means that the vulnerability of project location to seismic activities is insignificant. The climate in Suriname is one of a semi-humid type, influenced by the up and down movement of the Inter Tropical Convergence Zone (ITCZ). Hence, two rainy and two dry seasons are observed annually over the largest part of the country, with a mean annual air temperature of about 27°C, ranging from 26°C in January up to 31°C in October. Suriname receives between 1500mm and 2500mm of rainfall each year.

F] GOI Guidelines

As per the GOI guidelines, goods, works and services for a minimum 75% value of the contracts covered under these Lines of Credit, must be sourced from India. Applicants are advised to refer to the GOI guidelines mentioned above which are also available at <https://www.eximbankindia.in/assets/pdf/loc/GOI-Guidelines-on-LOC.pdf>.
