Part I: Scope of Consultancy Services

The Export-Import Bank of India (Exim Bank or the Bank), on behalf of the Government of India (GOI), is financing a project for “Strengthening the Drinking Water Supply of Grand Conakry”, from a Line of Credit (LOC) extended to the Government of Guinea. A part of the LOC shall be utilized for project management consultancy assignment for which Exim Bank now seeks applications for prequalification from eligible Indian Consultants to act as Project Management Consultant (PMC).

A. Background and Major Components of the Project

1.1 Background:

Guinea, formerly known as French Guinea, is a west-coastal country in West Africa and is also referred to as Guinea-Conakry after its capital and the largest city Conakry. It consists of 12 municipalities with a population of 2.1 Mn which is expected to reach 5 Mn in 2040.

The Guinean Government, through the Société des Eaux de Guinée (SEG) has initiated a program, “The Guinea Water Urban Project (PUEG)”, to improve drinking water supply to the city of Conakry and inland township by upgrading existing facilities and building new infrastructures. The proposed Grand Conakry Drinking Water Supply Project consists of 5 components and is being jointly funded by the World Bank and the LOC extended by India. The LOC shall be used for financing the construction of water intake at the Grand Chutes Dam (Component-1) and the supply and installation of the DN1600 mm raw water transmission main from the Grand Falls dam to the Yessoulou treatment plant (Component-2).

It is in this light that the Government of Guinea through Société des Eaux de Guinée (SEG) is calling for qualified and experienced consultants from India to provide PMC services for the Project.

1.2 Objective:

The Grand Conakry Drinking Water Supply System project is aimed at reversing the current trend of the loss of water resources, to significantly reduce the percentage of the population that does not have sustainable access to drinking and clean water and to improve the living condition of the targeted population, which is estimated to surpass 5 Mn by 2040. The water demand for the year 2040 is projected to be 775,000 m³/day (775 MLD). The main objective of the project is to reduce the current deficit in drinking water in Conakry region by increasing the drinking water production and distribution capacity by 200,000 m³/d. In the long term, the objective of the SEG through this project is to meet the drinking water needs of Greater Conakry where the average deficit, estimated at 220,000 m³/d in 2019 (250,000 m³/d at peak), is projected to reach 775,000 m³/d by 2040.

1.3 Major Components of the Project to be funded under the LOC:

The project covered under the LOC is composed of the following components:

Component 1: Raw Water Intake from Grandes Chutes Dam at a rate of 2.6 m³/s.

Component 2: Raw Water Transmission Main (Grandes Chutes to Yessoulou)

Component 1 (Raw Water Intake):

Under component 1, a new water intake on the Grandes Chutes dam is to be created to accommodate a new flow of up to 2.8m³/s nominal which may increase up to 3.5 m³/s under favorable transfer conditions. This new intake would be complementary to the current operation of the dam, including the current SEG intake.

Component 2 (Water Transmission):

The component involves the installation of water transmission pipe (DN1600 Ductile iron) in order to supply 200,000 m³ from Grandes Chutes dam to Yessoulou plant. The route of the raw water supply pipeline extends over more than 44 km and follows mainly the route of existing DN1000 pipes, though several river crossing will be needed along the way.

From a topographical point of view, the route generally has a progressively decreasing slope in the direction of Grandes Chutes – Yessoulou, with Grandes Chutes as the highest point of the section. The highest elevations are recorded at the Grandes Chutes dam at about 245 m, while the lowest elevations on the raw water pipeline route are found in the valleys located about 17.5 km from the Grandes Chutes, with an estimated elevation of 69m. From pedagogical point of view, the soil is hard rock from Grandes Chutes Dam to Tabilli while it is Lateritique crust from Tabilli to Yessoulou.
